

Useful Websites

These are websites that can be used for further research by teachers and pupils:

BIG QUESTIONS

www.creative-corner.co.uk/schools/tuckswood/philosophy/beargoestotown.html

There are several ideas from this school that are helpful for discussing right and wrong and morals. This one is looking at arguments for and against vegetarianism.

www.teachernet.gov.uk

Search 'philosophy' for more teaching ideas.

www.magictails.com/creationlinks.html

This site has lots of creation stories from around the world suitable for children.

www.apples4theteacher.com/native-american/shortstories/index.html

This site has good Native American Indian stories to share with children.

www.teachers.ash.org.au/jmresources/dreaming/stories.html

This site is from Australia and has a whole series of lessons that can be dipped into. It uses Aboriginal stories to discuss moral issues.

www.isle-of-avalon.com/stories.htm

This site has pre-Christian pagan stories for children.

OTHER WORLD RELIGIONS AND FESTIVALS

www.akhlah.com/holidays/hanukkah/hanukkah.php

This site has good activities for children and explains traditions.

www.firstschhoyears.com/re/buddhism/buddhism.htm

This site has good activities and information for children about Buddhism. It also covers other world religions such as Islam, Sikhism, Judaism, and Christianity.

www.kiddyhouse.com/CNY/

This site explains Chinese New Year facts and traditions.